This font is a Swiss style modernist sans serif type family characterized by the play between elegant rounded shapes and sharp angular details. The family has five weights on offer, ranging from Light to Black. It is an excellent choice for use in branding, editorial, and poster design. Satoshi's lowercase 'a' and 'g' are double storied; however, single storied alternates are available, through an OpenType feature. The fonts' other OpenType features include 10 ligatures per font, as well as alternate versions of the 'G' and 't'. Each Satoshi font contains ten directional arrow glyphs, as well as six glyphs of circles, squares, and triangles. Satoshi is the work of Deni Anggara, an Indonesian designer based in Medan.
